Who and how many participated? How did this relate to your original plan and eventual expectations?

What were the highlights?

What clues do you have that faith development did indeed take place in participants? Tell a story, if you have one.

If you partnered with another congregation or more in this project, please use a separate page to describe that process and experience.

What significant problems, if any, were encountered and how were they resolved?

In what ways did the program meet your expectations? What were your greatest disappointments? Do you plan any follow up activity?

Do you have any suggestions for the Disciples Center Grants for Congregational Education program?

Thank you.
